

THE MORNING POST.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19, 1834.

The Speech of Mr ISAAC CHASE, at the Anti-Bank Meeting at Faneuil Hall on Friday evening, will be found on the First Page.

STENOGRAPHIC GLIMPSSES OF CONGRESS.

No. LXXXVIII.

Washington, March 13, 1834.—Virginia is the "ancient," not the modern "dominion;" and she will find it extremely difficult to modernize her opinions through the ancient regime of Federalism. Mr Leigh, as every body knows who knows anything about him, "was born a federalist, (to use the language applied to-day to Mr Webster, by Mr Preston) and bred a federalist, and will die a federalist." But the reign of federalism is gone by; and in vain may any envious, disappointed and ambitious faction in the Virginia Legislature, look for its restoration through the feeble efforts of such men as Mr Leigh. Gov. Tyler is his superior in every respect, but melody of voice, as every one must have remarked to-day, who had an opportunity of comparing their powers. The administration has lost indeed an able man in the Senate by the resignation of Mr Rives; but his influence is not lost out of the Senate, and will be powerfully felt at home. As for the opposition, they have gained nothing but a vote which they did not want.

I noticed but a small part of what took place in the Senate yesterday, wishing to confine my remarks principally to Mr Leigh's debut. I had not space even to allude to the points of his speech, which Mr Forsyth so promptly and triumphantly refuted. Both speeches should be read, in order to judge of their merits; for it is quite impossible to think of instituting a proper comparison of them in the narrow space of an epistle.

I ought not to pass over a fine display of argument and oratory made by Mr King of Georgia, yesterday. He is an able and original debater; a man well read, of much reflection, of shrewd observation, of good sense, and a considerable traveller. He entertains some opinions peculiar to himself; but avows them with great frankness, whether they hit or miss. He has made two or three short speeches, reflecting high credit upon his talents.

Mr Talmadge commenced a speech on the Deposite question yesterday, and had the floor on the same subject to-day; but the morning was spent by an irregular debate on the presenting of a Virginia distress memorial by Gov. Tyler—thus preventing Mr Talmadge from continuing.

Mr Brown made a spirited speech yesterday; and a short one to-day.

Mr Leigh made a speech, or rather delivered a lecture, on the price, virtue, and mastication of tobacco. He said tobacco was manufactured of all prices and qualities, from $3 per cwt. to $30 per cwt. Then brandishing aloft in his right hand a junk of Cavendish, which he had discounted from his "breeches pocket," he exhibited it to his fair, and admiring audience. "There!" said he, as the eyes of the whole audience were fixed upon it, as if it had been the brazen serpent in the wilderness, to which all must look who wished to live—"there! that is the tobacco I chew! it costs $22 per cwt.," and then pausing an instant to let his audience recover their breath, exhausted by admiration, he added in the language of blasphemy and billingsgate, "God help those, who have to spend their mastication on tobacco of $3 per cwt."

And this man is to be held up to the people of this country as a candidate for the Presidency!—the most exalted honor—and the highest trust in their power to bestow! And his qualifications?—chewing tobacco at $22 per cwt.

Really, I thought it was bad enough to hold up mere orators and metaphysicians, for this high trust; I never thought we should hold up a mere tobacco chewer! whatever might be his talents of mastication! This honor seems to be alone reserved for Virginia!—her "reserved rights." May she continue to reserve them to all eternity—nobody will invade them.

But let me turn from this disgusting subject,—the most loathsome degradation of Senatorial dignity I ever witnessed,—to the brilliant coruscations of Preston. He took occasion to make a speech to-day on the Virginia memorial, against the administration. He said it was characterized by two leading measures, which he considered usurpations of power—the Force Bill, and the Deposites. He complimented Mr Forsyth, designating him as the "elegant and talented Senator from Georgia;" but cut Mr Webster with a keen rebuke for lending his aid to the administration, against nullification. Mr W. was not in his seat at the time; and his friends squirmed not a little to see their favorite fare so much worse than his namesake did in the lion's den. By the way, he carved a most brilliant allegory out of the lion. He took his cue from some one having compared the Bank to a lion, that was dying of exhaustion; and he compared the Executive to a huntsman that passed by his side, and hurled an arrow at him to hasten his end, which only roused him in his wrath, and made him go forth to prowl the country, spreading consternation and terror through cities and fields. Was this the lion's fault, he asked, or the huntsman's? But I cannot do justice to his royal beast—it was certainly the finest lion I ever saw before in the menagerie of the opposition; and Mr Preston is as certainly the lion of the day. As a spontaneous combustion of oratory, I never witnessed any thing so brilliant. The art of printing cannot convey the orator to the mind; you must see, as well as hear, in order to appreciate him. No wonder that the doctrine of nullification, however heretical, should flourish where he declaims. His appeals to the passions are so overwhelming, that reason and reflection surrender at discretion; not here—not in the Senate—but at the hustings of the south.

Mr Forsyth answered his arguments, but let his allegories pass. Mr P. made some very just observations about an opposition.—Though he had represented the administration as a "piebald" party, he confessed the opposition "ring-streaked and speckled." He said the opposition must necessarily be made up of the discontented of many parties; and he might have added that they have little or no confidence in each other. I am inclined to opine, that the cut he gave Mr Webster was an intimation, that he did not put much faith in him. Such are the thanks the leader of one regiment of the opposition receives. Can he promise himself that there is much chance of being "considered" in the distribution of the spoils, if the heterogeneous opposition should ever arrive at the point of consideration? The honorable Senator, I fancy, is a Pyrrhonist on this point. I think the Senator from South Carolina has given him pretty fair warning, that he must expect only the ass's share of the lion's spoils.

REIS EFFENDI.

The Money Market is easier—business brisker, and confidence returning. The harvest for the panic-makers is past, and they are now tuning their pipes for a different song.

The Bank and its Partizans.—Jefferson said the Bank would one day or other shake the Institutions of this country to their very centre, and although the Boston Courier calls him an "arch deceiver," his prophecy in this instance has become history. The people were not aware of the power of the United States Bank, nor could they believe it possessed of the influence which had been attributed to it, until they saw it exercised. The re-election of the President, and the choice of the present Congress, turned mainly upon the Bank question, and the Bank was defeated by a great majority. Yet notwithstanding this decided expression of the public will, the Bank, through the influence of its incorporated privileges, and the power of its wealth, has been able to contend against the decision of the PEOPLE, and the laws of the country, and to obstruct the operations of the government, and bring distress and embarrassment upon its citizens. By this conduct the people have become convinced of the magnitude of the evil they are contending against, and of the positive necessity of putting an end to its dangerous career. They justly apprehend that while this Institution exists, their liberties and their property are unsafe. The violence of its partizans has no bounds in SPEECH, it would have none in ACTION. The inhabitants of Boston have witnessed the daily vituperation which has been poured upon the heads of its most estimable citizens, and the OUTRAGE which was attempted upon a large assemblage of individuals, because they were unfriendly to the re-charter of the United States Bank! They have beheld this OUTRAGE indirectly justified by nearly every newspaper in the city, favorable to the Bank, by their expression of astonishment that those opposed to this Institution should dare to convene together for the purpose of expressing their opinions!

One of the Editors of the Atlas (Hildreth) was in Faneuil Hall on Friday evening last, encouraging those opposed to the meeting, and using all his efforts to increase the disturbance. It is this incendiary publication which so far lost its sense of decency and decorum, and respect for the party to which it has attached itself, as to pronounce an individual a fit subject for the pillory, who has raised himself by the exercise of his virtue, his talents and his industry, from obscurity to eminence and independence; a Boston Merchant—inferior to none of his associates in enterprise, intelligence and patriotic feeling—one whose private character is without stain or blemish and whose public conduct is a theme of praise even with those who revile him for his political opinions. Such calumny we hope and believe is not countenanced by a majority of those favorable to the Bank, but we find it used by those who are most under its influence—it is a true specimen of the Bank spirit, and those who are not reckless enough to imbibe it to its full extent, fall so much short of the Bank creed. It is this unjustifiable warfare which has given a blow to the Bank cause in this city, and throughout the country, from which it never will recover. It is a conviction enforced by the conduct of the Bank and its immediate partizans, that it would trample every principle of truth, right, and justice under its feet, for the purpose of gaining a renewal of its charter, which has determined the American People to "crush the monster."

A violent attack was made upon the office of the Baltimore Republican on Thursday night last, between eleven and twelve o'clock, with stones, brick-bats, &c. The Republican attributes the attack to the emissaries of the Bank, and says, "We can imagine no other motive than a desire to put down our opposition to that monster, by silencing our press by intimidation or violence. The Bank presses have been engaged for some time past in urging the advocates of that institution to acts of violence, and we suppose this is the first fruits of their exhortations."

Forgery.—Considerable excitement was created in this city yesterday, by the discovery that a Kilby street Merchant had forged his father's name on paper to the amount of $30,000, and some say $50,000. He left the city on Friday for New York, under pretence of urgent business at the South. The forger's name is Thomas Dennie, jr.

Tremont Theatre.—Mrs W. H. Smith, one of the most industrious, talented, and worthy members of the company, takes a Benefit this evening, and should be honored with a bumper. Her duties during the past winter have been uncommonly arduous, and the alacrity with which she has performed them all, entitle her to favorable remembrance to night. The bill is good, and patronage cannot be better bestowed.

Hackett's Benefit on Monday evening, produced one of the fullest houses we have seen this season. But the Yankee Paul Pry was rather a sorry affair—and Hackett's personation of the character is not to be compared with Finn's;—the former is altogether too broad and coarse for effect—and is little better than a blundering libel upon Yankee curiosity. Barnes' Col. Hardy, and Mrs. Smith's Phoebe, were excellent. The Comedy of Errors went off tolerably well, although one or two of the performers were deficient in their parts.—Hackett missed a figure, in refusing the call of the audience, after the close of the performances. His friends had filled the house to overflowing, and he was quite too much in their debt, to refuse so slight a favor. Although it is a foolish custom, "more honored in the breach than the observance," it was the wrong time to nullify it; and his obstinacy upon that point will operate much to his disadvantage hereafter.

The Agent of the Italian Opera Company at New York, has concluded an arrangement with the managers of the Chesnut street Theatre, Philadelphia, which the Company will have possession of during the ensuing month. There are to be ten representations, and seven different Operas are to be performed.

POLICE COURT.

[Tuesday.]

A loving husband, and a fonder wife.—On Monday afternoon, Thomas Welsh applied to the court for a warrant against his landlord, for interrupting him, while in the exercise of his sovereign right of moderately admonishing his wife with a shillalah. As he was evidently in that happy state of mind elegantly termed "excited," he was politely advised to make himself scarce, as the climate of the Police Court was not considered healthy for persons laboring under any "ardent" affection.—Welsh accordingly withdrew from the court, but muttering curses through his teeth, at being denied justice.

The next morning, however, a near neighbor complained against him for an assault on his wife, and for being a common drunkard. To the first charge, he pleaded "that it was a poor business for the law to be meddling with man and wife;" and to the second, that "he never had been intoxicated in all his life."—The first witness testified that he had seen Welsh staggering along several times in the course of the last fortnight; that on Monday he heard a noise in the cellar he occupied; and on looking into the window saw him beating his wife, and tearing all her clothes off; that she ran out into the street all covered with blood, and almost stripped; and that he then set to work and made a bon fire of her best wearing apparel, to the value of about $30. The fragments of a cloth cloak were exhibited in confirmation of the fact. Other witnesses testified that this was the third affray he had been engaged in. The magistrate then informed Welsh, that "the evidence proved him to be a brutal and outrageous man, and that he should send him to the house of correction for 3 months; and he should be very happy if the discipline of the place, should have the effect of driving him out of the city, where the authorities would no longer be disgusted with his cruelty." To this Welsh replied, that "nothing could be so cruel as to part man and wife—it is, indeed, a sore thing to part us. Your worship will not surely part man and wife." "We surely shall," was the unmitigated reply, and as Veteran Reid approached to conduct him to his new quarters, his wife, who had hitherto sat a silent spectator of the trial, now gave vent to her bursting heart:—"It is hard—'tis shameful to carry him off to jail, for so little," said the fond and forgiving wife. Welsh's iron visage responded to this gust of affection, by an awful contortion, intended to be expressive of grief. To prevent a scene in open court, they were both instantly hurried out, while rending the walls of the building with their re-echoing lamentations; but when Veteran Reid placed the thickness of the barred door between the fond couple—

"At once there rose so wild a yell,
As if the fiends from heaven that fell,
Had peeled the banner cry of hell."

Her voice, however, was soon drowned by the vociferations of her darling Tom. His pathetic "O, Mary, Mary, dear Mary," were as piercing and touching as the first exclamation of a fat grunter, when the butcher's blade passes through the "carotid artery;" but when his strength was exhausted, like the last sigh of the said porker, his murmuring, inaudible soliloquy through the key hole, seemed to breathe out in the bitterness of his anguish—

"By day or night, in weal or woe,
This heart no longer free,
Must bear the love it cannot show,
And silent ache for thee."

Municipal Court.—On Monday, James Kemp, who pleaded guilty to four indictments, for stealing, was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment in the States' prison, as a common and notorious thief. His youngest son, Francis, was sentenced to the house of correction for one year. The oldest son, George Kemp, was acquitted; and the first use he made of his liberty, was to pay a visit to the Police Court, as a spectator, where he seemed to be deeply interested in the business. He was a witness in behalf of Walton, the highwayman, convicted of firing upon Mr John Fenno, Jr, in Chelsea. We understand, that Mr Mace Smith, one of the South Boston watch, was the first who found out this nest of land pirates, and followed them up to conviction. He first caught the old Dirk Hatteraick, in an attempt to steal a shovel, in a shed, in the night, and was led, in consequence, to inquire into his character and movements.

At the Warren, Mr Pelby has made a short engagement with Old Barnes, and he will appear to-night, as Sir Anthony, in "The Rivals," and as Delph, in "Family Jars." Mr O. E. Durivage, a recent successful debutant, will appear in both pieces. We are never in haste to compliment young beginners in the profession, but we must confess that Mr D. has exhibited decided talent for the stage,—though we cannot undertake to say in what particular line he would be most successful.

At the Tremont last evening, there was a good house to witness Miss PELBY'S Julia. She was enthusiastically received, and played the character with her usual energy and genuine feeling. Miss Duff's Helen was also excellent.

Coroner's Inquest.—An inquest was held yesterday, by Ebenezer Shute, Coroner, on the body of a man, found floating between Russia wharf and South Boston. The body was identified as that of Mr Thomas Dyer, of East Cambridge.

Large Reward.—The store of Messrs E. K. Bussing & Co. at the corner of William and Ann streets, in this city was broken open on Saturday or yesterday evening, and property stolen therefrom, to a large amount. By reference to our advertising columns, it will be perceived that a reward of $500 is offered for the recovery of the goods.—N. Y. Com.

Cheese.—The Navy Commissioners advertise to contract for the delivery of 120,000 lbs. of Pine Apple Cheese.

To liquidate a debt is to get drunk at the expense of your creditor.

CONGRESS.

The Senate did not sit on Saturday. The House was occupied by a long and animated debate on a Resolution to supply the members of the House with certain books, such as Gales and Seaton's Register of Debates and some others. The Resolution was agreed to without a division, at four o'clock, after a discussion of three hours.

MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate, Tuesday, March 18.—Bills concerning the entry of actions and appeals—for the relief of poor convicts—to establish police court in Taunton—concerning breach of town by-laws—transferring the powers of county commissioners to the selectmen of Nantucket—to incorporate the Orthodox Congregational Society in Petersham—the 1st Baptist Society in Watertown—the Methodist Episcopal Society in Holliston—severally passed to be enacted. Resolves making further appropriations to aid the city of Boston in erecting a Small Pox Hospital on Rainsford Island, passed and sent down: Bill reported to incorporate the Bowdoin Insurance Company.

In the House, Bills to authorize the first Congregational Society in Canton to sell real estate—to incorporate a Methodist Episcopal Society in Dorchester—the Proprietors of the 2d Congregational Meeting House in Leicester—the Warden, &c. of Grace Church, in New Bedford—regulating the assessment of taxes in town of Plymouth—in addition to an act to establish the Winnesmet Bank; severally passed to be enacted. The bill concerning calling a convention to amend the constitution was taken up, but before taking any question the house adjourned.

CITY AFFAIRS.

At a meeting of the Mayor and Aldermen on Monday: The report of the committee on the subject of lighting the streets with gas in those streets where pipes are already laid, was considered and accepted.

An order passed requesting our Senators and Representatives to use their best efforts to obtain the grant of money which the committee of the Legislature has reported for the erection of a Hospital on Rainsford Island.

Warrants were granted to the following officers of the fire department, viz: Engine No 11. Frederic C. Allen, Foreman; Newell A. Thompson, 1st Assistant; William A. Banister, 2d Assistant; James C. Thompson, Clerk. Engine No 12. Theodore C. Allen, Foreman; Francis Hooton, 1st Assistant; William Jewett, Clerk.

Adjourned to Monday next, 4 o'clock, P. M.

Great Anti-Bank Meeting at Albany.—On Friday evening there was held at the Capitol, one of the largest meetings ever convened within the walls of that building. The great hall, the portico, and the steps leading to it, were crowded. The rooms adjacent and opening into the great hall were thrown open, but so small were the accommodations for the numbers assembled, that hundreds were unable to obtain admittance. The venerable revolutionary whig, Simeon De Witt, Surveyor General, was appointed President; Erastus Corning, Mayor of the city, Peter Wendell, Martin Van Alstyne, William Gould, Cornelius Vanderbilt, and Thomas Gough, Vice Presidents; and Lemuel Steele, Lorenzo Hoyt, Robert E. Ward, and John I. Burton, Secretaries.

Resolutions strongly condemning the Bank and approving the course of the administration were adopted.

Legislative Report on Freemasonry.—The joint committee of the Legislature of the Commonwealth, made a voluminous Report of their doings, for the last three months, this morning. The Report occupies 100 closely written MS pages, together with a bill in two sections. To which is added an appendix, occupying 108 pages more of compact manuscript; all of which was ordered to be printed, and when completed will make a volume of about 200 pages.—Transcript.

The Providence Journal of Tuesday says:—"The Grand Lodge of this State, at their meeting in this city, yesterday afternoon, resolved to surrender their Charter to the General Assembly at its session in May, and recommended to the subordinate Lodges throughout the State, that they should also deliver up their several acts of incorporation."

An excellent movement.—A correspondent informs us that a new society is about to be formed in this city, to be called "The Anti-Tight-Lacing Society." Such a society would doubtless be the means of doing much good. If our belles could be persuaded to join it, an astonishing improvement would soon take place in their physical constitutions and their general health. Consumption would be less frequent, and pale cheeks, and features evidently distorted by excessive pain, which is endured with the fortitude of a stoic, for the sake of a genteel frame, would be of rare occurrence. The days of hour glasses would be numbered, and posterity would have cause to bless the founder of the "anti-tight-lacing-society." We say with Davy Crockett, "go ahead" girls.—Merc. Jour.

A considerable excitement exists in this town, in consequence of the unaccountable disappearance of Mr Solomon D. Chase, blacksmith, who went to Boston on the morning of Thursday last, to purchase coal, with the intention of returning in the afternoon. He made a purchase of coal on one of the wharves, since when he has not been heard of, though much inquiry has been made.—He was a young man with a family, in prosperous business, and with apparently good prospects. No cause can be assigned for his absence, and those who knew him are unwilling to believe that it is voluntary.—Lowell Journal.

New Orleans, March 1.—Forgery.—A check for $6,500, signed Harris, Wright & Co., was yesterday presented to the paying teller of the New Orleans Canal and Banking Company for payment, which on a close examination proved to be a counterfeit. It was presented by a young man apparently about twenty-five years of age, well dressed and of genteel appearance, and is supposed to be a resident of the city.

The Supreme Court have given judgment in favor of Rowland Stevenson, impleaded with Remington and others, at the suit of Joseph W. Parkins; consequently the bail of Stevenson for the jail liberties is discharged—and he is once more at large.

Bernadotte, King of Sweden, it is now distinctly understood, removed the French Consul from his dominion, on account of improper conduct to one of the ladies of the Court.

A sort of colonization of several parts of Asia, it is said, will be undertaken by the Ottoman Government.

The cholera was committing the most extensive ravages in several parts of India.

Maelzel and the Kembles are in Philadelphia, astonishing and delighting the people.

Mr William Wilkins has called upon us, in company with Mr John Nason, and stated that he was discharged from the employ of Messrs Hayward and Bacheider, through the influence of Mr Hayward, because he refused to sign the memorial in favor of re-chartering the U. S. Bank, and was told so by Mr Hayward, in presence of Mr Nason, at the Franklin Bank.

At the Mechanics' Reading Room may be found the Memorial to Congress against the re-charter of the U. S. Bank, to which such as approve of it can affix their signatures. Another one is placed upon the table in Democratic Hall, corner of Congress and Milk streets, entrance from Congress street.

For the Boston Morning Post. Communicated.—The silver Franklin Medal, and also a small piece of linen marked "Joshua Seaver," found on board the wreck of the schooner Eliza, lately towed into Bermuda, have been brought to this city and delivered to the friends of the deceased—leaving not a doubt of the melancholy fate of those who were on board of this ill fated vessel. A.

Comic Trio, "The Irish Schoolmaster," (1st time) by Messrs Johnson, Andrews and Comer.
To which will be added (1st time) the celebrated Burletta of QUADRUPLES, performed at the English Opera House, London, throughout a whole season with the greatest success—with new Scenery, Properties and Decorations.
Francisco, leader of the Dungs, (a martyr both to gout and glory).
Bernardo, (a determined Plint, with a Roman heart, with the song of "My Master Away.")
Comer, Abrahamides, (leader of the Flints—he often strikes through without fire, and must therefore not be regarded as a light character—valiant but revengeful).
Fin.
Batholomew, (a Tailor who stands rather high in his profession).
Zachariah, Isaacos, Christophides, Columbrinos, Jackides, (Foremen of the Shop, although not in the Field; brave to the back bone, which they always prove by turning that part to the enemy.)
Lema, Sarzedas, Adams, Richardson and Whitting.
Dorothea, (a pattern of a wife, whose love of her husband is only equalled by his truth and constancy; though in justice it must be remarked that he can scarcely stand from the gout in both legs).
Miss A. Fisher.
Tittillada, (a young lady extremely dangerous among sparks, and at the present moment very deep in love and debt, consequently has very serious thoughts of surrendering her person).
Miss McBride
Blondissio, a comely sort of personage, Mrs Campbell
Mopperella, a maid of all work. Mrs Holden
In the last Scene.

BROWN'S SELF-INJECTING INDIA RUBBER INSTRUMENT.

BY which removes costiveness and many of its consequent complaints, by the use of warm water only. The instrument is not an India rubber book, which may be carried in the vest pocket. It is so simple and portable an article, that its use is decidedly more pleasant than most of the instruments now in use; it has no piston or valve, or any of the complicated contrivances which causes the common instrument to get out of order. It may be used by the patient alone without the aid of a physician, and is administered to patients lying in bed without turning them over or exposing them to the slightest degree. In this respect it has a decided advantage over all other instruments, as it does also in convenience, portability, and cheapness. Price $2.50. Please to observe the signature of the proprietor, William Brown, written with indelible ink on the inside of the India rubber cloth.

CERTIFICATES.
Having employed Mr William Brown's Self-Injecting India Rubber Apparatus, both in private practice and in the Massachusetts General Hospital, I can recommend it as well calculated to answer the purpose for which it is intended, while it is at least as effectual as the common instruments now in use. It possesses the advantages of being in a more portable form, of a more simple construction, and consequently more easily kept in order, and of being afforded at a much less price.
GEORGE HAYWARD,
Jnn. Surg. of the Mass. Gen. Hospital.
April 15th, 1833.
I concur in the opinion expressed by Dr Hayward.

U. S. Marine Hospital, April 18th, 1833.
Mr Brown—The domestic instrument I received of you, I find upon a thorough trial to answer the expectations I had previously formed of it. Its simplicity of construction, its portableness, its being free from the liability to injury, and above all, the ease with which lavements may be administered by its means, have induced me to employ the instrument in this institution to the exclusion of all others formerly in use.

C. H. STEEDMAN,
Phys. and Surg. U. S. M. H.
The following Physicians hereby certify that they have in our practice, used Wm. Brown's Self-Injecting India Rubber instrument, and find it as simple, commodious and effectual an article of the kind as we have ever known; and they are perfectly satisfied in pronouncing it to be a valuable instrument, and recommend it for general use:
Marshall S. Perry, John D. Fisher, Samuel G. Howe, John Holmes, J. G. Stevenson, Joshua B. Flint, Boston, Thomas M. Windship, Roxbury.
Boston, April 18th, 1833.

To be had at wholesale of the proprietor, WILLIAM BROWN, 481 Washington street; Henshaw & Co., India street, F. & B. Currier, head of Long wharf. Retailly by J. M. Smith, Brewer & Brothers, Washington street; J. Kidder, Court street; James Fowle, Green street; E. Wight, Milk street; likewise, by most of the other Druggists throughout the United States.

COMPOUND VEGETABLE SYSTEM-ATIA PITA BLE SYSTEM-

PREPARED by A. STEWART. Which under the divine blessing, we have been the means of restoring to health and activity many persons suffering various diseases, completely given over by physicians. 1. Strong Cathartic or Purgative Pills.—They are used in almost every complaint where cathartics are necessary, and they are perfectly safe in all conditions of ill health when it is necessary to clear the Primæ Viæ or Stomach and Bowels of its superfluous matter and to prepare for the use of the other Pills as recommended for the complaint. They are a certain and immediate remedy for the Tenebæ or Worms and all sudden attacks of Bilious and Colic complaints. These Pills do not interfere with the ordinary occupations of the patient.

2. Mild Cathartic and Aperient Pills.—These Pills are recommended in most cases after a few doses of No. 1. They are a certain remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Jaundice and all Bilious complaints, loss of appetite, Headache and Piles.

3. Mild Aperient, Doobstrut or Female Pills.—These are recommended in almost all complaints which Females are subject to, such as obstructions of customary evacuations and all nervous affections, sick Headache, pains and palpitation of the heart and breast, Weakness, Debility, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Costiveness, Inflammation, Strangury and indeed all complaints incident to the human frame. They are perfectly harmless, and may be taken in all cases and at all stages; they will neither hinder business nor amusement, and will, if persisted in, prevent and carry off numerous complaints, which are daily sending many of our fairest and worthiest of creation to an untimely grave.

4. Ulcera, Consumptive, Alterative Pills.—These Pills are designed for Consumptive complaints in all their different stages, and may be taken with perfect safety; they act altogether as an alterative. The same kind of Pills have twice saved my life in consumption, when every thing was prepared for my funeral except Pills; to these and to Pill No. 3, I owe my present wonderful recovery from a consumption of diseases accompanied with ulcers of the Phagadæmic nature, which for nearly 9 years had defied to the first Physicians in Massachusetts and New York, and was pronounced by them incurable. The Pills are pure vegetable, but act very powerfully on the system without producing any dangerous or disagreeable effects. Used with great success in Herpes, Ekedens and Phagadæmic Ulcers or Erysipelas, Scrofula and Callosus Eating Ulcers.*

5. Rheumatic Pills.—These operate by stool, urine, perspiration and as a general alterative. Rheumatism is often accompanied with pains in various parts of the body, and other diseases such as Scrofula, Scurvy, White Swelling, Gout, Syphilis. Where nothing is supposed to be present, but Gout or Rheumatism, they are an infallible remedy.*

6. Asthmatic Pills.—An infallible remedy for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Dropsical complaints; they are expectorant and slightly purgative.*

7. Syphilis or Antineural, Chemical Pills.—All my Pills with the exception of these are compounded from the vegetable kingdom alone, but as there are a great many complicated diseases frequently accompanying Rheumatism, Scrofula, Gout, pains in the head and joints, which are generally worse when the patient is in bed, and some of these are of a disagreeable nature, I have gone Vegetable Pills, as there may be some remains of Virus, in its confirmed state, lurking in the system or in other words mingled with the juices of the body, whether from a hereditary taint, or some impudience in youth, and as it is well known, or ought to be known, that there is but one certain cure for this complaint whatever the pretensions of quacks tell you, and that these are annually carried off by this direful complaint.

A STEWART.
*Ask for No. 2, or No. 1, to take alternately with them.
Price of each box is $1, except No. 7, which is $1.50. Sold at the bookstore of R. P. & C. WILLIAMS, Nos. 15 and 20, Cornhill, and at the drug store of J. M. Smith, apothecary to the United States, and in the British Colonies.
Letters addressed to R. P. & C. Williams, postpaid will be attended to.

INDIGESTION, JAUNDICE AND BILIOUS COMPLAINTS.

ELIXIR, for Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Jaundice and Bilious Complaints; weakness of the Stomach and Bowels, and consequent loss of appetite; nervous complaints, headache, sour stomach, flatulency and habitus costivus.
This medicine is composed entirely of vegetable substances, is perfectly safe in its operation, and may be given to children or persons of the most delicate habit without the least risk of inconvenience.
The uniform success which has attended the use of it where it has been extensively used, in Boston and various other parts of the United States, and in the West Indies, affords a strong confirmation of the medicine itself, the best commentary upon its efficacy, and the commendation which can be offered to those who are unacquainted with it.

Extract of a letter received from a gentleman in Boston, who had suffered severely from Indigestion for three years: "During this time I suffered very much from mental depression, constant pain in the head and breast, and side, sharp shooting pains over almost the whole system—the food that I ate seemed to pass into my lungs and there remain, giving me great pain at tended with a strong degree of heat. At times I suffered so much from the pain of indigestion as to be confined to the bed for two or three days. During one of the most severe attacks, I was induced by the advice of a friend to try your Vegetable Medicine. In the course of a few weeks I found myself much better, and by the time I had taken two bottles, considered myself wholly free from the complaint. I continue, on the least feeling of anything like indigestion or pressure on the stomach, to take about a tablespoonful of it, which, in the course of a few hours, completely restores me. It has had with me a very wonderful effect in strengthening the stomach and invigorating the whole system, and judging by my own case I consider it in all diseases connected with the digestive organs to be a very valuable medicine.
It has been found singularly efficacious in cases of the most obstinate indigestion.
It is put up in large bottles, containing a pound and a half; and sold at seventy-five cents each, by Jonathan P. Hall, Jr., No. 1, Union street, John P. Whitwell, Milk street, John J. Brown, near Boylston Market, Erasmus S. Holden, near the Western Avenue, Richard A. Newell, Summer street, Boston, Samuel Kidder & Co., Charleston, E. G. Lomon, Roxbury. ocly; f8

THE STATE MUSEUM!

ASHINGTON HALL, No. 321, Washington street, opposite the head of Franklin street, will be open for the reception of visitors, and brilliantly illuminated in the Evening. The Museum is in complete order and decorated for the occasion.

MAJOR STEVENS, the wonder of the age, will be present and happy to welcome and entertain his friends and patrons at the State Museum.

Among the great attractions of the Grand Mechanical Exhibition which presents a beautiful Allegorical Representation of the Treaty of Ghent, comprising over seventy moving figures as natural as life.

The Sugar Plantation is in fine order, and continues to be as great an attraction as ever.

In the Evening a Band of Music and Popular and Sentimental Songs, by the Grand Liverpool. Also, a Horripole and Story by Miss Hill.

The Proprietor returns his sincere thanks to his friends and patrons for past favors, and wishing them a happy New Year, and every blessing Heaven can bestow. No exertion will be spared to merit a continuance of their patronage.

JOHN GREENE is anxious to gratify his friends, respectfully informs them that he has engaged Master NELLIS, from New York, who will be at the Museum in a few days; this wonderful Youth, born without arms, cuts correct profiles, waxes, birds and animals with his toes, plays the violin, and will hit a mark with the bow and arrow, with many other astonishing feats too numerous to mention.

Members of the Legislature, after paying once, will be admitted free during the remainder of the session.

*Admittance 25 cents—Children under 10 years of age, half price. jan 2

IRON SAFES.—S. A. & W. G. PIERCE, Agent for selling Gaylor's Patent Double Fire Proof Wrought Iron Chests and Safes, 370 Washington street, have now on hand a large assortment comprising all the sizes and kinds which are calculated for the use of Banks, Insurance Offices, Town Records, Merchants, and others.

The above Chests are double throughout in all their parts, with double doors, each secured with Chubb's Patent Detector Locks, which cannot be picked; and the Chest is as completely Fire Proof as any vault or chest can be made. Proof of which can be seen by those who will take the trouble to call at the Agent's Store and examine a Double Chest, which has passed through a very severe fire, and preserved a valuable lot of books and papers, belonging to John S. Abbott, Esq., whose name is attached to the following certificate:—

"This is to certify, that one of the above described Double Safes, which I purchased of the Messrs S. A. & W. G. Pierce, was in my office in this town when the office was burned on the 2d day of November last—the building was of two stories, wooden, and large. The Safe weighing 700 lbs fell from the second story into the cellar, and was exposed to an intense heat for nearly three hours. It was for a long time literally red hot. It contained all the account books, notes, and court papers, that were in my office; and no paper was in the least degree burnt or rendered illegible."

JOHN S. ABBOTT.

Thomaston, January 8th, 1834.

The above Chest, and some of the papers which were in it at the time of the fire, are now at the Agent's Store, corner of Essex and Washington streets, and any individual or corporation who are about purchasing Iron Safes for the protection of their books and papers, will find it for their advantage to call and examine them, and they will be perfectly satisfied that Gaylor's Double Safes are what they are represented to be—FIRE PROOF; and they will also find that the price is no other but the Double Safe would stand a severe fire.

Gaylor's Double Safes are a patent article, and can only be legally purchased in this city of S. A. & W. G. PIERCE, who are his authorized Agents. t jan 31
